

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. Since implementation of the law in Indiana, I can enjoy my dinner with my family in peace. I used to receive so many telemarketing calls I had to turn off the phone in the evening making me unavailable to my friends and family in an emergency.